LEADERSHIP NOTE

Message from the President

Friends and well-wishers of Kusum Foundation,

It gives me immense pride to place before you the Annual Report for 2024-25 - our seventeenth year of service to the villages of Saran. What began in 2008 as a single sewing class in Katesar has grown into six programmes reaching more than 4,500 lives across twelve villages.

This year we opened the Digital Disha computer lab, welcomed our 28th women's self-help group under the Roshni network, and crossed Rs. 18 lakh in group savings mobilised by rural women themselves. Every rupee you see accounted for in these pages became a sewing machine, a scholarship, a health camp, or a warm meal for a family that needed one.

We remain committed to the principle that has guided us from the start: when a woman earns, her whole family rises. On behalf of the Governing Body, thank you for walking this road with us.

Bharat Seturiya

President, Kusum Foundation

WHO WE ARE

About Kusum Foundation

Kusum Foundation is a not-for-profit society established in 2008 and based in Katesar, Saran district, Bihar. We work with rural women, youth and vulnerable families to build skills, livelihoods, health and dignity - so that change is led by the community itself, not delivered to it.

Our mission

To empower rural women and youth in Bihar through skills, self-help groups and education, and to stand with vulnerable families in health and hardship - creating self-reliant, dignified communities.

Our vision

Villages where every woman can earn with dignity, every child stays in school, and no family is left behind in times of need.

Where we work

From our centre in Katesar, our programmes reach twelve villages across Saran district. Our self-help group network, health camps and relief drives extend into neighbouring blocks, while our vocational-training and digital-literacy work draws learners from the wider district.

WHAT WE DO

Our programmes

Six interlocking programmes make up our work - each rooted in a simple need heard directly from the villages we serve.

Women Empowerment

Self-help groups, savings circles and livelihoods led by women.

We organise rural women into self-help groups (SHGs) of 10-20 members who pool small monthly savings, learn to manage group finances, and take turns accessing interest-free internal loans. Beyond finance, the groups become a space where women find their voice - discussing health, schooling and their rights, and speaking up on issues that matter to them.

Vocational Training

Turning a skill into a steady, dignified home income.

Our training centre in Katesar runs batches in tailoring, cutting & embroidery and handicrafts, alongside a digital-literacy lab teaching computer and smartphone basics. Every course ends with a placement or self-employment plan - a sewing machine on easy instalments, a link to a local boutique, or help registering as a home-based enterprise.

Education Support

Scholarships, study material and adult literacy.

We provide books, uniforms and scholarships to children at risk of dropping out, and run remedial after-school classes so first-generation learners keep pace. For adults - especially women who never had the chance to study - evening literacy circles teach reading, writing and numeracy.

Health & Hygiene

Bringing basic healthcare closer to the village.

In partnership with local doctors, we run periodic health camps offering check-ups, medicines and referrals, with special sessions on maternal and child health, anaemia and menstrual hygiene. Our volunteers also lead sanitation and clean-water awareness drives and distribute hygiene kits.

Food Distribution

No family should go to sleep hungry.

We distribute monthly dry-ration kits to widows, elderly people living alone, and families hit by illness or job loss. During floods and other emergencies we mobilise rapid relief, and festival community-kitchen meals bring dignity and togetherness to those who are usually forgotten.

IN THEIR WORDS

Voices from the field

Behind every number is a person. These are a few of the many whose lives changed this year.

"When I joined the sewing class I could barely stitch a straight line. Today I run a small tailoring business from home, my daughter goes to school, and I pay her fees myself."

Priya Kumari · Tailoring graduate, Katesar

"After my husband's illness our family struggled. The self-help group did not just help me start a small business - it showed me that women can lead change. I now mentor other women in my village."

Anita Devi · Self-help group leader, Katesar

"I dropped out after class 10 and was helping at a shop. The basic computer course helped me land a data-entry job nearby. I now support my parents and my brother's studies."

Ravi Kumar · Digital-skills trainee, Saran
